

L. HANDRAILS

Approvable material for constructing handrails on the front entry stoop of single family detached homes or townhomes are wrought iron, wood and composite material. Wrought iron handrails can be black, brown or white in color. Application, installation and maintenance of wood/composite handrails must follow the current deck standards to include their limited color palette and materials.